Overview: Technology Purchases

Learning and Technology Services (LTS) should be your first contact when making a technology purchase. Specifically, our LTS Consulting team is here to guide you through all the twists and turns of procurement, and making sure you get what you need. We also reach out to the rest of our expert staff within LTS as needed. Technology spans a large number of categories and we want to help you from start to finish with anything we can. This page should help guide you to some more specific categories of technology, but when in doubt, ask us!
