This article is for editing a video within the Video app in Athena.

1. Edit the Title as desired.

NOTE: Athena will automatically import the video's title and description from the video streaming provider. Editing this field will override that data within Athena only.

The main content area is divided into two sections:

- Basic Info: This section contains two text input fields. The first is labeled "Title" and contains the text "Campus Mall Drone Flyover (TEST)". The second is labeled "Description" and is currently empty.
- Organize Tags: This section is a table with two columns: "Units" and "Selected Items".

2. Edit the Description.

NOTE: A description can be added to add more detail about the video and its contents.

3. Select the applicable Unit(s).

NOTE: Units can be added to help organize your video. Units can also help to search for the video at a later time.
