

CampS: Fluid Overview

Last Modified on 09/16/2021 11:06 am CDT

Starting on Sunday, September 26, 2021 there will be a new look to CampS. Student Center is being replaced with a tile-based user interface in an effort to enhance the student experience across different devices. These new changes will be seen on phones/tablets and desktops!

See below to check out the differences. To the left you will see the current view when you login to CampS using a phone. To the right is the new view.

The new tile based navigation will take you into the sub-menus for each of the different areas within CampS. While you will still see some menu items that will display in the "old" format, please know that we are continually working to improve and will be looking to get these items updated!

We understand that with anything new there is a need for clarification and will be providing documentation where needed. Most documentation will be located here: <https://www.uwec.edu/kb/category/students/>

Please contact the LTS help desk with any questions or issues related the Camps Fluid.
